Help people in small groups recapture and enhance their sense of enchantment in reading the Narnia stories

Bring The Lion, the Witch & the Wardrobe into conversation with relevant Biblical texts and theological themes

Linda and Robert Banks have spent many years helping people to understand and creatively use The Chronicles of Narnia and other writings of C.S. Lewis.

In this exciting new book, they build on their experience as authors and communicators to create a study series with strong biblical scholarship, in-depth questions & practical application.

In their own words, "Even though Lewis has been dead for more than 40 years, he undoubtedly remains one of the best communicators of the Gospel. Increasingly those reading his books are post-moderns with little or no interest in organised Christianity. For us this is reason enough for equipping Christians to understand and use Lewis' writings more effectively in reaching others."

DON'T MISS THIS UNIQUE WINDOW OF OPPORTUNITY!

It is rare for a big screen film to have such Gospel-centred themes.

Use the film, this discussion guide and Lewis' books to equip yourselves, your congregation and Christian organisations for conversation with a wide range of adults and children.

Discussion Guides on other books in The Chronicles of Narnia series are also planned.

This Discussion Guide will be available for purchase from Bible Society NSW in February 2006. Please contact us for more information.
